The world of high-performance motorsports is based entirely on STEM: Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics. INDYCAR is excited to offer Future of Fast, a unique STEM-focused learning opportunity for students and teachers during the 2013 racing season.

In select North American race markets, we'll invite local students to the track to learn about everything from car and engine design to tire compounds and fuel formulas. Hands-on activities and getting up close and personal with a race car will give students real-world examples of how their science and math classes can lead to a fast-paced career in the world of motorsports.

WHAT TO WATCH FOR THIS WEEKEND:

HELIO LOOKS TO PAD POINTS LEAD: Helio Castroneves took control of the IZOD IndyCar Series points lead with a victory at Texas Motor Speedway and carries a 22-point advantage into the Milwaukee IndyFest. The Brazilian leads the Andretti Autosport duo of Marco Andretti (22 points back) and Ryan Hunter-Reay (27 points back). Can Castroneves take advantage of Team Penske's knowledge of Milwaukee (seven wins) and maintain the points lead?

VICTORY FOR DADS ON FATHER'S DAY? : With Sunday, June 16 being Father's Day, a perfect pairing for an IZOD IndyCar Series driver would be to spend the day before with his child in Victory Lane. Among the racing dads aiming for a win this weekend are: Ed Carpenter, Helio Castroneves, Scott Dixon, Tony Kanaan, Takuma Sato and Justin Wilson.

TK: MILWAUKEE MASTER: With six top-five finishes in his last eight starts at Milwaukee, Tony Kanaan has definitely earned the title of Milwaukee Master. Kanaan won in 2006 and 2007 and finished second in 2012. Can the reigning Indianapolis 500 winner add a third Milwaukee trophy?
